Excerpt: . . . is given, in the last decade of the nineteenth century, to the pretensions of the old Rosicrucians, but the fact remains that a society of that name still exists or did in 1884. A statement was published in 1883 to the effect that a lodge of Rosicrucians existed in London, whose members claimed by asceticism to live beyond the allotted age of man, and that the late Lord Lytton had vainly tried to gain admission. Referring to this statement, Rev. E. Walford, M. A. , asked through the medium of Notes and Queries (London, November 15, 1884), whether anything authentic could be learned concerning it. He was answered in the same periodical (December 13, 1884) by the Magister Ternpli of the society, over his address, who stated that the Soc. Rosic. in Anglia still holds several meetings a year in London. The fratres investigate the occult sciences; but I am not aware that any of them practice asceticism or expect to prolong life on earth indefinitely. It is not customary to divulge the names of candidates who have been refused 1 ession to the first grade, that of Zelator, so must ask to be excused from answering the question as to Lord Lytton. E. G. Keen. Warw Ck, Pa. Tacoma (Vol. vi, p. 137). --It is doubtful if the action of the Board on Geographic Names in rejecting the Indian name Tacoma and selecting Rainier for the peak in question will have any influence...
