Crile, in abdominal operations, uses the quinine and urea hydrochlorate injected into the peritoneal edge before sewing up. The anesthesia produced locally by this drug lasts for 24 to 48 hours and protects the patient almost entirely from the wound pain, as it is the pulling of peritoneum, which is the greatest factor in the causation of the postoperative wound pain. Mr Sf A clergyman was being shaved by a barber, who had evidently become unnerved by the previous nights dissipation. Finally he cut the clergymans chin. The latter looked up at the artist reproachfully and said: You see, my man, what comes of hard drinking. Yes, sir, replied the barber consolingly, it..
