Aulakh graduated with a BS in Agriculture in 1958 from Khalsa College, Amritsar, Punjab. In 1965, he migrated to the United Kingdom. Before moving to the United States of America in 1970, he had completed his postgraduate Teachers Training from Jordan Hill College of Education, Glasgow, Scotland. He then taught general science for one year. After arriving in the US he did his MS in Genetics from North Carolina Central University, Durham, NC, and his PhD from Howard University, Washington, D.C. Subsequently, he did his post doctorate assignment at the National Institute of Health, Bethesda, MD, and was a Senior Staff Fellow at the Bureau of Biologics as a special expert in the laboratory of Oral Medicine. He was the first scientist to demonstrate the presence of virus related genes in human tumor tissues and absence in the normal tissue from the same patient, thus postulating the viral etiology of cancer. He did this pioneering work in the Tumor Cell...

Reviews

It is an awesome publication which I actually have ever read through. It had been written really properly and valuable. I found out this book from my I and dad recommended this pdf to discover.

-- Doyle Schmeler

This book is definitely not simple to begin on studying but quite fun to see. I actually have read and that I am sure that I will gonna read through yet again once again in the foreseeable future. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.
